

FAITH WINS

- Pastors and Faith leaders of every denomination and at every level have a Biblical responsibility to engage the culture. Jesus' commands to be salt and light in Matthew 5 are clear and HE doesn't exclude being salt and light in the governmental arena just because it is unpopular or uncomfortable.
- Jesus isn't running—for any office in any state. Therefore, we are ALWAYS voting for the "lesser of two evils." Politicians are all just like us, sinful human beings in need of a savior. Believers shouldn't vote on person or party, but always on policies and principles that most closely reflect our Biblical worldview.
- Issues like life, Biblical marriage, Israel, and religious liberty are ALL spiritual issues that have been politicized, but they are NOT political issues. If God is big enough to be everywhere in all things, surely HE wants us to be engaged with issues that His word clearly stands for. While they have been politicized by the press and many even in our orbits, that fact does not remove our obligation to tell the truth to our families, our churches and our spheres of influence.
- It is inconceivable that the God who created human government as one of His three institutions, would want His very own people NOT to be involved in it.
- Faith Wins is dedicated to maximizing the Christian vote at the local, state and national levels by church voter registration, church poll watcher recruitment, and by educating, activating and mobilizing pastors and church leaders to leverage their influence with candidates, elected officials and political thought leaders across America.
